

stumblehere suprised me

Selling my vehicle on stumblehere.com was painless. I was suprised because I have never heard of this site before.

It all started when I posted on craigslist an ad for my 2003 car. Not long after I posted my ad I received a call from a representative who had used stumblehere.com. I am sure that he was used to people not being happy about his phone call to them and I was along with that group.

I did not want to listen to some sales speach about how stumblehere was a place to sell my stuff. The last thing I wanted to do was post more ads.

I had not heard of stumblehere.com before. Something about the name made me want to try it. I decided that the ad syndication they were promoting sounded exciting.

I was finally interested. The way he explained it to me was that after I create a login and post a Betterpost ad that it will then be part of their syndication efforts. Knowing and after he told me that it is in their best interest to get it on as many websites as possible. To make me want to continue coming back and using them as my main ad website.

Stumblehere will be my classified site for life. I sold my vehicle and am excited it went soo smoothly. I did not think it would work, but it did.
