

Mapping Out the Right GPS Receiver for Your Car

The Garmin Nuvi 360 GPS Receiver system allows a sizable selection of included maps that can be used in North America. If you should decide to utilize your Garmin Nuvi 360 system in Europe, you will be required to get maps of Europe put into the system.

Features

The Garmin Nuvi 360 GPS Receiver boasts a 3.9 inch by 2.9 inch touch screen that close to just sixteen ounces. You can easily carry the hassle-free GPS system in a pants pocket or bag. The small build of the navigator is just right for traveling on foot or in an instance when you are required to take your GPS along when you go off away from your car.

The tool also offers plenty of open space for your personal information, including such as phone numbers, and boasts wireless capacity. You can turn to your Nuvi 360 portable GPS to call people as you are tooling down the road by simply adding your personal phone to the navigator.

The Garmin Nuvi 360 GPS Receiver provides automatic directions to give you the fastest course. You should add your home address and make sure to save it for immediate assistance in the future. Later, you will only need to key in your destination address by utilizing your saved home address.

Anti-Theft Feature

The Garmin Nuvi 360 portable GPS system even has an anti-theft feature. You will need to use a PIN of three numbers to operate your GPS, and only you can modify the code. If you can't recall the code, you may easily take it to a local authorized dealer to have the system unlocked.

Entertainment

If you like to have huge amounts of music and audio books on your computer, you will love having the ability to download them through your Nuvi 360 GPS system. You simply utilize the USB cord that comes with your navigator and add the MP3s and books to the system from your computer.

Nuvi 360 Memory Card

You can listen to the files from your Nuvi 360 if you are on the road or backpacking. If you find that you require extra space for your audio files, you can buy a memory card for your Nuvi 360 at a local retailer.

The memory card is also made use of when you need to add travel data or additional maps to your system. These benefits are most helpful when you are visiting a new country, as they can give you a heads-up about the most interesting spots in the town as well as your location.

The neat places that are mentions in the travel guide afford you a helpful listing containing the phone number, address and guidance on how to drive to the site. If you need to stay over while on the way to any destination, you can effortlessly find convenience stores and restaurants by using the travel guide.

About the Author

Joseph Aaron is involved with an online project that helps his readers make educated purchase decisions on GPS Navigation Systems. Amongst the highest rated GPS units recommended on his website is the Garmin Nuvi 360 Portable GPS System.

Source: <http://www.car-articles.co.uk>